

Tower of London, Buckingham Palace & Windsor Castle

Commissioned to undertake quadrennial inspections of Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, The Tower of London and Horseguards.

Heritage assets can be surveyed and managed like non-historic assets, but different standards may be required. The Periodic Inspection report system is designed to ensure that the correct and appropriate information is gathered.

The Quadrennial Inspection (QI) report process was developed for the care of historic buildings and they are mandatory in government departments and agencies for statutorily-designated historic buildings. This approach is also valid for other categories of heritage asset, although the type of information gathered and the reporting cycle may differ.
